Baron Max von Oppenheim 2009

MONT
BLANC

Baron Max von Oppenheim's life was filled with a passion for exploring and discovery, for beauty and the fascination of the Middle East. To honour a man who roamed from Europe to the East the design of the Limited Edition 1656/4810 Max von Oppenheim is inspired by the domes of Eastern mosques. Pale grey lacquer inlays on the barrel, made of 925 sterling silver, are reminiscent to the decoration and frescoes of the Middle East while the fountain pen's platinum-plated rings recall the famous designs and reliefs from Tell Halaf.

Francois I 2008

MONT
BLANC

Patron of the Arts Edition 18k Nib Individually Numbered Limited edition Box For 2008, Montblanc pays tribute to Francois I, King of France (1515), one of the greatest Patrons of the Arts. The passion of François I for painting, architecture and artistic writing is expressed in the carefully chosen design of the Montblanc Patron of Art Edition bearing his name. The gilt pen fittings shine in royal elegance and are decorated with courtly Renaissance ornaments. Another majestic touch is the three-color combination of the valuable materials: gold-plated fittings, black precious lacquer on the cap and a genuine semi-precious tiger-eye gemstone barrel. During his life, François I wore this fascinating gem as an amulet to protect himself against dangers and the powers of evil. The fine engraving on the handmade 18K gold nib honors the great king and art patron: it shows three heraldic lilies, the insignia of the French royal house, which also adorned the royal crown of lilies. The ornamental work on the rings and clip are patterns from the Renaissance – as Francois I was known as the "Renaissance King". The uniqueness of each pen is guaranteed by an engraved edition number 3885/4810, limited to only 4,810 pieces. Fountain pen is bottle fill only.

Pope Julius II 2005

MONT
BLANC

The Edition Patron of Arts Pope Julius II, limited to 4810 fountain pens 466/4810, 718/4810 world-wide, has a sumptuous gold-chased design on top of a cream-coloured base. It is crowned by a distinctive cap, symbolizing the tiara of the Pontifex Maximus, and is embellished with an 18-karat gold nib, which is engraved with the seal of Julius II.

Writers Edition

Thomas Mann 2009

MONT
BLANC

Thomas Mann's masterpiece "Buddenbrooks" has brought him immortality and has turned him into one of the most famous writers of the 20th century. Montblanc is paying tribute to this unique wordsmith with an equally unique Writers Edition. The platinum-plated inlays in the rich black lacquer of this writing instrument are inspired by the age of artistic creativity in which Thomas Mann lived: the Art Deco era. The interplay of colours and materials symbolizes the different relationships between the characters in “Buddenbrooks”. The limited edition is also available in a three-piece set. Mann’s signature and the ivory colored Montblanc star on the top of the cap add the finishing touches to this exceptional Montblanc Writers Edition.

George Bernard Shaw 2008

MONT
BLANC

Dark green marbled lacquer punctuated with platinum-plated fittings. These are the style features of the new Writers Edition in honour of the distinguished Irish free thinker George Bernard Shaw. This pen is inspired by Shaw’s best-known character from his play “Pygmalion”: Eliza Doolittle. Just as Eliza, a poor flower girl is brought up to be an aristocratic lady, so the fine platinum of the pen is replaced more and more towards the cap by the opulent dark green of the precious resin.

William Faulkner 2007

The Writers Edition “William Faulkner” is dedicated to the literary master of modernism. The shape and surface of this unique writing instrument are reminiscent of the novelist’s early creative period and the style of art déco. The black-brown precious resin, shimmering like mother-of-pearl, meets the bright brilliance of the platinum finish with its subtle ring structure. This represents a shift in point of view as we encounter it in Faulkner's works.

Virginia Woolf 2006

The Writers Edition “Virginia Woolf” is oriented impressively to the literary heritage of the writer it is named after: 75 years after the publication of the novel “The Waves”, finely engraved guilloché work recalls Virginia Woolf’s most outstanding work and her eventful life. In the form of waves, the guilloché work covers the body of jet-black precious resin, underlining the lightly curved silhouette.

Franz Kafka 2004

The design of the Writers Edition Franz Kafka is not only reminiscent of the simple and yet artful style of its eponym, but also pays tribute to Kafka's most famous work: "The Metamorphosis". In the fascinating change from square to round in the writing instrument's form, the metamorphosis described in Kafka's story has found its equivalent. Top, clip and rings made of 925 sterling silver offer a thrilling contrast to the dark red translucent aura of the barrel. A further reference to "The Metamorphosis" is on the rhodium-plated 18-karat gold nib: a finely engraved cockroach.

Charles Dickens 2001

The Victorian era is generally viewed as one of the most outstanding periods of English culture. Its special elegance is recaptured in the pens from the Writers Edition Charles Dickens. The barrel, made of the finest greenish precious resin, is decorated by the writer's signature. The 925 sterling silver fluted cap and the rhodium-plated 18-karat gold nib, with its engraving of the monogram of Charles Dickens, provide an elegant finishing touch to this tribute to the most famous author of the Victorian era.

Schiller 2000

The Writers Edition Schiller is made of a material that was a symbol of a changing society, especially in Schiller's time – amber. It is elaborately worked, and this, along with the simple elegance of the delicate gold-plated mountings, evokes the style of the heyday of Weimar classicism.

Schiller's signature is inscribed on the cap. The finely-engraved 18-karat gold nib is decorated with a small crossbow as a tribute to "William Tell", one of his best-known pieces.

Limited Edition Donation Pens

Yehuda Menuhin

MONT
BLANC

The Donation Pen was created as a token of respect for his life's work. This pen, with its loving details, is as unforgettable as it is unique. As a tribute to the virtuosity of the violinist, the gold-plated clip symbolizes the neck of a violin with its scroll. The delicately engraved ring around the cap of the pen carries his signature. A delicate engraving of a dove decorates the rhodium-plated 18-karat gold nib.

Sir Georg Solti

The design of this exceptional Special Edition honours both the pianist and the conductor Sir Georg Solti. The jet-black precious resin with the platinised fittings pays tribute to the pianist: the clip symbolises the keyboard of a piano, while the cap rings reflect the piano strings. The artist's signature on the body honours the conductor Sir Georg Solti. The radiant red recalls his hand-written comments on musical scores. The fine engraving on the rhodanised, 18-karat gold nib perfectly completes this masterpiece.

Arturo Toscanini

MONT
BLANC

When Arturo Toscanini died in New York in 1957 at the age of almost 90, he had revolutionised the world of classical music and paved the way for upcoming young musicians. It is a way which Montblanc wants to continue with the Donation Pen "Arturo Toscanini". The many facets of his genius are reflected in the design of these exclusive writing instruments. The black precious resin and the platinum-plated mountings with their clear lines and harmonised proportions pay tribute to Toscanini's perfectionism.

Papa - Pope John Paul II

Aurora Pope Limited Edition Fountain Pen has many different combinations of emotion ranging from peace, brotherhood to knowledge of art and culture; this is the inspiration behind the quality of Aurora's new writing instrument.

The body of the Pope Limited Edition Fountain Pen features a variegated marbled-colored auroraloid that evokes imagery of the columns at St. Peter's Square.

The Pope is finished with a gold-plated cap that bears two papal coats of arms, the first symbol is an eagle used by Pope Innocent III (1198-1216), the second is a cross and M (for Mary), to symbolize Pope John Paul II. Also, set into the cap is a cabochon-cut white agate and the cap ring is engraved with XXV I and Paulus II.

The Pope Limited Edition Fountain Pen is further enhanced with a precious curved clip, gold-plated grip, 18K nib and piston filler.

Delta- Nazareth 2000

Fountain pen - $850.00 Limited # 80187M

As stated by Delta's leaflet, Nazareth means "guardian", both in Arabic and Hebrew, perhaps referring to the town's strategic location above the Valley of Esdraelon. Later this role was also applied to the Spiritual Guardian Role of the town. There are much longer descriptions but just to jump directly into "substance", let me only add that Delta acquired the rights to produce and distribute worldwide writing instruments bearing the Nazareth 2000 official logo which reproduces the Basilica of the Annunciation and two towers representing the Muslim and Christian religions. Nazareth's landscape, in which olive trees, green pastures and rocky hills predominate, serves as inspiration of the rich resin from which those FP's are masterly turned out. The collection itself symbolizes the hope for better times to come with this new millennium.

Omas Limited Edition Ingegno Scrittorio Silver Fountain Pen Medium

The Italian Renaissance in the Fountain Pen $1,500.00 Limited # 49/1000

The Ingegno Scrittorio - The Writing Genius - celebrates the 550th anniversary of the birth of Leonardo da Vinci. The pen was conceived and designed with the cooperation of Gianluca Malaguti, grandson of Omas founder, Armando Simoni. Historical and artistic authenticity was ensured with counsel from Prof Alessandro Vezzosi, Director of the Museo Ideale Leonardo da Vinci. The master's drawings served as a guide when designing the Ingegno Scrittorio, thereby creating the ultimate pen he envisioned.

Features Sterling Silver barrel and cap, Ebanite Feeder, Piston loading system and a Omas Rinascimento 18 carat gold rhodium plated nib.

Comes in a luxurious Oak Box. The name of the collection is burned into the pen's oak case, oak being the material of the renaissance and one of Leonardo's primary mediums. The case's simple exterior is contrasted with a luxurious interior, reflecting the complexity of Leonardo da Vinci and the nobility of the exquisite Ingegno Scrittorio.
